DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings were received on March 25, 2005. These drawings are approved in part. The corrections to figure 3 is accepted. The changes to figure 1 introduces new matter since there is no support in the disclosure as originally filed to depict the slits with having the orientation illustrated. In fact, there is no disclosure for any length or orientation of the slits. Figure 1 is not approved.

2. In order to avoid abandonment, the drawing informalities noted in paragraphs 3 and 4 (relating to the slits) in the paper mailed on December 16, 2004, must now be corrected. Correction can only be effected in the manner set forth in the above noted paper.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

4. Claims 1-12 and 27-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arnell (US 5,851,071) in view of Price (US 6,213,641).

Arnell teaches the claimed bag, including a non-reclosable string zipper 18 at the bottom of the bag and a reclosable zipper 16 at the top edge of the bag, except is silent regarding a slider and the reclosable zipper being a string zipper.

Price teaches it is known to utilize a reclosable fastener with or without a slider (col. 4, lines 2 and 3). Figure 5 depicts a flangeless, reclosable zipper having a slider.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to apply the teaching of a slider to the reclosable bag of Arnell and to make the reclosable zipper a string zipper as taught by the non-reclosable sting zipper 18 of Arnell. Doing so provides a bag having fewer manufacturing steps and an easier opening and closing arrangement. Wherein the modified reclosable zipper of Arnell would be a string sipper attached to the bag panels, the structure would inherently meet the newly added claim limitations regarding the location of the zipper part backs, bag panels, and the slider.

Regarding the slits, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute the slits for the holes of Arnell since the examiner takes Official Notice of the equivalence of slits and holes for their use in the bag art and the selection of any of these known equivalents to allow a bag to hang would be within the level of ordinary skill in the art. Additionally, applicant's failure to traverse this rejection is considered admitted prior art.

Regarding the spaced perforations, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute perforations for a score line since the examiner takes Official Notice of the equivalence of perforations and a score line for their use in the bag art and the selection of any of these known equivalents to allow for separation of one bag part from another would be within the level of ordinary skill in the art. Additionally, applicant's failure to traverse this rejection is considered admitted prior art.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed March 25, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In the response filed March 25, 2005, applicant did not traverse the examiner's assertion of official notice with regard to the equivalence of slits and holes and the equivalence of perforations and a score line for their use in the bag art. Thus, the common knowledge or well-known in the art statement is taken to be admitted prior art because applicant failed to traverse the examiner's assertion of official notice.

Regarding applicant's statement that the patent to Arnell was misinterpreted, it is acknowledged that the previous Office action did not clearly indicate there is non-specific disclosure to the type of zipper, i.e., the reclosable zipper 16, found at the top of the package.

Art Unit: 3727

The teachings found in the prior art reference are quite clear and understood by the examiner.

Rather, applicant misinterpreted the rejection.

Regarding applicant's remarks directed to the disclosure of Arnell at page 13, paragraphs 1 and 2 of the response, the patent teaches throughout, except at column 4, paragraph 4, that " a plastic zipper [is] disposed along the top edges of the front and rear walls" (claim 1, subparagraph (b)). The disclosure at column 4, paragraph 4 appears to be drawn to a non-illustrated embodiment. Thus, no "generous reading" is necessary as asserted by applicant.

Further, it has been well established that patent drawings can be used for their teaching. It has been established that "the description of the article pictured can be relied on, in combination with the drawings, for what they would reasonably teach one of ordinary skill in the art". In re Wright, 569 F.2d 1124,193. Thus, the description of figure 1 at column 3, lines 13-17 as well as claim 1 clearly set forth a reclosable zipper 16 at the top edge of the bag panels 12 and 14.

Regarding the last paragraph on page 13 of the response, the disclosure of Arnell clearly indicates the zipper 16 is reclosable. The disclosure of Price clearly sets forth zippers can be used with or without sliders. One of ordinary skill in the art would combine these two references to render the claimed invention obvious without the necessity for a "generous reading" of the prior art.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

7. In order to reduce pendency and avoid potential delays, Group 3720 is encouraging FAXing of responses to Office Actions directly into the Group at (703) 872-9306. This practice may be used for filing papers not requiring a fee. It may also be used for filing papers which require a fee by applicants who authorize charges to a PTO deposit account. Please identify the examiner and art unit at the top of your cover sheet. Papers submitted via FAX into Group 3720 will be promptly forwarded to the examiner.

8. It is called to applicant's attention that if a communication is faxed before the reply time has expired, applicant may submit the reply with a "Certificate of Facsimile" which merely asserts that the reply is being faxed on a given date. So faxed, before the period for reply has expired, the reply may be considered timely. A suggested format for a certificate follows:

I hereby certify that this correspondence for Application Serial No. _____ is being facsimiled to The U.S. Patent and Trademark Office via fax number (703) 872-9306 on the date shown below:

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate
